

Apostrophes	Fronted Adverbials	Expanded Noun Phrases
Add an apostrophe to the sentence below to show plural possession. As they strutted around the field, the peacocks feathers were a fabulous sight. 	Rewrite this sentence, adding a suitable fronted adverbial. The weathervane spun wildly. 	Underline the expanded noun phrase in this sentence. Conor couldn't wait to open the orange present with the red bow.
Suffixes	Homophones	Determiners
Write a word with the suffix -ation to match each definition. _____ : Getting things ready for something. _____ : Watching something carefully. 	Mr Whoops has jumbled up a pair of homophones. Unjumble them and write them on the lines. pceei _____ paeec _____ 	Add the determiners 'a' or 'an' to these sentences. _____ healthy salad makes a delicious and nutritious lunch. Why not add _____ egg for extra protein?

Apostrophes	Fronted Adverbials	Expanded Noun Phrases
Add an apostrophe to the sentence below to show plural possession. As they strutted around the field, the peacocks' feathers were a fabulous sight.	Rewrite this sentence, adding a suitable fronted adverbial. The weathervane spun wildly. Accept any sentence containing an appropriate fronted adverbial followed by a comma, e.g. During the ferocious storm, the weathervane spun wildly.	Underline the expanded noun phrase in this sentence. Conor couldn't wait to open the orange present with the red bow.
Suffixes	Homophones	Determiners
Write a word with the suffix -ation to match each definition. preparation: Getting things ready for something. observation: Watching something carefully.	Mr Whoops has jumbled up a pair of homophones. Unjumble them and write them on the lines. pceei piece paec peace	Add the determiners 'a' or 'an' to these sentences. A healthy salad makes a delicious and nutritious lunch. Why not add an egg for extra protein?