

Standard English	Direct Speech	Prepositions
Re-write this sentence using Standard English. "I done it! I passed my driving test!" cried Henry. _____ _____ _____ 	Write the words in the speech bubble as direct speech using the correct punctuation.  _____ _____	Underline the preposition in each sentence. A dog sat under the kitchen table. The sleepy cat was asleep inside its basket. There was a yellow ball in front of the sofa.
Prefixes	Tenses	Spelling
Add a prefix to each of the words below to make a word that means the opposite. patient _____ agree _____	Use the correct form of the verb 'to be' to complete these past and present tense sentences correctly. This _____ your new classroom. Yesterday, we _____ on a school trip. Joe and Jack _____ twins.	Help Mr Whoops unjumble this LKS2 spelling word. o d r n i r a y _____

Standard English	Direct Speech	Prepositions
Re-write this sentence using Standard English. "I done it! I passed my driving test!" cried Henry. Accept any appropriate sentence written using Standard English, e.g. "I did it! I passed my driving test!" cried Henry.	Write the words in the speech bubble as direct speech using the correct punctuation. Can you tell me your symptoms Mr Brown? "Can you tell me your symptoms Mr Brown?" asked the doctor.	Underline the preposition in each sentence. A dog sat under the kitchen table. The sleepy cat was asleep inside its basket. There was a yellow ball in front of the sofa.
Prefixes	Tenses	Spelling
Add a prefix to each of the words below to make a word that means the opposite. patient impatient agree disagree	Use the correct form of the verb 'to be' to complete these past and present tense sentences correctly. This is your new classroom. Yesterday, we were on a school trip. Joe and Jack are twins.	Help Mr Whoops unjumble this LKS2 spelling word. o d r n i r a y ordinary