

Relative Clauses	Pronouns	Word Classes
Add a relative clause and appropriate punctuation to the sentence. Fun Land _____ _____ has about 10,000 visitors every week. 	Help Mr Whoops unscramble the pronouns. mehtelvses _____ rthie _____ how _____ 	Add two examples to each row. <table border="1"> <tr> <td>Adverb of Possibility</td><td></td></tr> <tr> <td>Preposition</td><td></td></tr> <tr> <td>Determiner</td><td></td></tr> </table>	Adverb of Possibility		Preposition		Determiner
Adverb of Possibility Preposition
Determiner
Modal Verbs	Subordinating Conjunctions	Prefixes
Circle the modal verbs. Sophie might win the fancy dress competition. Rhys should feed his pet goldfish tonight. Before tea, Zayan will do his homework.	Write a suitable subordinating conjunction that fits best into each sentence. The school team carried on training _____ it was pouring with rain. _____ of the rain, everyone got very muddy.	Match each root word with the correct prefix. <table border="1"> <tr> <td>dis-</td><td>agree</td></tr> <tr> <td>de-</td><td>remember</td></tr> <tr> <td>mis-</td><td>frost</td></tr> </table>	dis-	agree	de-	remember	mis-	frost
dis-	agree
de-	remember
mis-	frost

Relative Clauses	Pronouns	Word Classes
Add a relative clause and appropriate punctuation to the sentence. Accept any appropriate relative clause with punctuation, e.g. Fun Land, which has only been open for three months, has about 10,000 visitors every week.	Help Mr Whoops unscramble the pronouns. mehtelvses themselves rthie their how who	Add two examples to each row. <table><tr><td>Adverb of Possibility</td><td>E.g. definitely, possibly</td></tr><tr><td>Preposition</td><td>E.g. under, atop</td></tr><tr><td>Determiner</td><td>E.g. the, many</td></tr></table>	Adverb of Possibility	E.g. definitely, possibly	Preposition	E.g. under, atop	Determiner	E.g. the, many Adverb of Possibility	E.g. definitely, possibly Preposition	E.g. under, atop Determiner	E.g. the, many
Modal Verbs	Subordinating Conjunctions	Prefixes
Circle the modal verbs. Sophie might win the fancy dress competition. Rhys should feed his pet goldfish tonight. Before tea, Zayan will do his homework.	Write a suitable subordinating conjunction that fits best into each sentence. The school team carried on training even though/although it was pouring with rain. Because of the rain, everyone got very muddy.	Match each root word with the correct prefix. <table><tr><td>dis-</td><td>agree</td></tr><tr><td>de-</td><td>remember</td></tr><tr><td>mis-</td><td>frost</td></tr></table>	dis-	agree	de-	remember	mis-	frost
dis-	agree
de-	remember
mis-	frost							